A CENTENARIAN'S DEATH.- The death took place on Sunday at 5 Millward-road, of Miss Eliza Louisa TARVER, who in May reached the great age of 102. Her passing breaks a record of longevity which is believed to be unique in this country. Her sister, Mrs. Sarah LONG, who lived with and survives the deceased, reached her 100th birthday in April. Both these remarkable sisters could read and knit and took a great interest in things going on around them. Each week they held Bible meetings at their home. Miss TARVER had not been in good health recently and the end came peacefully. Natives of Lymington, she and her sister came to live in the Island about 40 years ago and had settled in the town for over 20 years.
