

1861 CENSUS: RG9/1414. folio 6. page 8.
Abode: Barcombe House, Oldway Lane, Paignton, Devon.

Julia LOCKWOOD. Head. Mar. 61. Right Hon. Lady. Dublin, Ireland.
Henry J. A. LOCKWOOD. Son. Widr. 32. First Attaché Stockholm. Paris France (British Subject).
William NAPIER. Grandson. Un. 14. The Honorable. Malta (British Subject).
Edwin MARTIN. Serv. Un. 23. House Serv. Bucks.
Jane BISSELL. Serv. Un. 21. Ladysmaid. Devon.
Ann COCKS. Serv. Un. 51. Cook. Bickington, Devon.
Mary COLLINGS. Serv. Un. 34. Upper Housemaid. Morval, Cornwall.
Dinah ENDICOTT. Serv. Un. 16. Under Housemaid. Paignton, Devon.
William MAUNDER. Serv. Un. 22. Gardener. Salcombe Regis, Devon.
John FURZIE. Serv. Un. 21. Under Gardener. Bradford, Devon.

---

1878 WHITE'S DIRECTORY of Hampshire & Isle of Wight – page 479
LOCKWOOD Mr. Henry, Saxonbury Lodge, West-street, Ryde.

---

1881 CENSUS: RG11/1180. folio 11. page 16.
Abode: Saxonbury Lodge, West-street, Ryde, IW.

Henry J.A.LOCKWOOD. Head. M. 54. Retired from Diplomatic Service. Paris (BS).
Mariane LOCKWOOD. Wife. M. 47. Paris (BS).
Emily A.BONAR. Sister-in-law. Unm. 48. Rome (BS).
Fanny BARTON. Serv. Unm. 30. Cook Domestic. Newport, IW.
Ellen HAYLES. Serv. Unm. 26. Parlourmaid Domestic. Southampton.
Rachel CAMPBELL. Serv. Unm. 21. Housemaid Domestic. Beaulieu, Invernesshire.

---

ISLE OF WIGHT TIMES Thursday 3rd August 1882

Death Notice:-

LOCKWOOD.. On the 31st ult., at Torquay, H. Lockwood, Esq., of Saxonbury Lodge, West-street, Ryde.

---

ISLE OF WIGHT OBSERVER Saturday 5 Aug 1882

DEATH OF MR H.LOCKWOOD

We exceedingly regret to record the death of H.LOCKWOOD, Esq, late of Saxonbury Lodge, Ryde. The sad event occurred on Monday last. The deceased gentleman left Ryde about a fortnight since for Bournemouth, and we understand expired there quite suddenly and unexpectedly from heart disease. He appeared in his usual health when he left Ryde although he was never very robust. Mr LOCKWOOD's mind was of the high order which treasures every impression it receives, and reading and travel had strengthened his powers of reflection and observation. He had resided for some time in Egypt, and it was only last winter that he afforded some idea of his extensive knowledge of the present state of that country and its wondrous ancient history, by a most interesting and valuable lecture in the Town Hall. Mr LOCKWOOD had many valuable relics of the land of the Pharaohs, which he sometimes lent for exhibition. A kindly cultivated gentleman like Mr LOCKWOOD will not fail to make friends, and his loss will be sincerely mourned amongst a very large circle of friends in this town.

---

ISLE OF WIGHT OBSERVER Saturday 12th August 1882

THE LATE MR. H. LOCKWOOD

The remains of Mr. H. LOCKWOOD whose sudden and unexpected death we chronicled in our last issue , were brought to Ryde and interred in the Cemetery here on Tuesday , when many tokens of respect were exhibited. The coffin, which was of polished oak was taken to the Parish Church, where the first part of the service (choral) was performed. There were three mourning coaches and a great number of private carriages.

---

Researched by
Ann & Les Barrett