

FASHIONABLE WEDDING

On Saturday afternoon the marriage of Miss Mary Champaign LEACH, with her cousin, Mr. Claude Pemberton LEACH, was solemnised at the Parish Church of All Saints. The bride is the daughter of the late Mr. Thomas LEACH, barrister-at-law, a gentleman who was one time a leader of the Conservative Party in Ryde, an active justice of the peace, and for two years mayor of the borough. He will long be remembered by the fact that he was the originator of the Ryde Conservative Club where his life size portrait hangs by the side of that of Sir Richard WEBSTER, reminding the members of the institution of one to whom they owe a debt of gratitude. The respect in which the family is held, and the numerous ties linking them with Ryde, were proved by the large attendance at the church.

The service was choral, the celebrant clergy being the Rev. A. POOLE (Vicar), and the Revs. YOUNGMAN and COOPER. As the wedding party entered, the well-known hymn, "The voice that breathed o'er Eden," was sung. The bride, who was given away by her brother, Major LEACH, R.A., wore a dress of rich white brocaded satin, made with court train, the bodice was tastefully trimmed with crêpe de chiffon; petticoat of white satin duchesse. A long tulle veil was fastened over a wreath of bridal flowers by a lovely pearl brooch, the gift of her brother. She carried a bouquet of choice exotics, the gift of the bridegroom. There were eight bridesmaids- Miss Ethel, Margaret and Rose LEACH (sisters of the bride), Miss Fanny LEACH (niece,) Miss Edith LEACH and Miss BATEMAN-CHAMPAIN, (cousins,) Miss J.L. BROWN and Miss BOULTON. They wore very pretty dresses of white nuns cloth, with high medici collars, empire bodices with loose fronts of straw coloured silk, directorie hats, trimmed with ribbon to match, and roses of two shades, tan shoes and stockings. Each carried a bouquet of roses and carnations tied with straw-coloured ribbon and wore gold initial brooches, the gift of the bridegroom. Mr. A. BLOOMFIELD was best man. At the conclusion of the ceremony, and while the wedding party were signing the register in the vestry, Mr. HARVEY gave a splendid rendering of MENDELSSOHN'S "Wedding March." The day was rather inclined to be showery, but, as the wedding party left the church, the sun peeped out and smiled his good wishes with the many friends assembled.

In the afternoon Mrs. LEACH entertained a large party of friends at Seafeld Lodge. The splendid wedding cake (provided by Mr. MARLOW) was beautifully ornamented with natural flowers. And was much admired. The band of the Ryde Volunteers attended and, under Bandmaster COOKE, performed the following appropriate selection of music : wedding march, MENDELSSOHN; quadrille, "The Garden Party," NEWTON; overture, "The Golden Rose," RICHARDS; waltz, "Wedding Bells," LANE; selection, "Dorothy," CELLIER; waltz, "Thine for ever," Fabian ROSE; fantasia, "Mar*tans," WALLACE; polka, "The Happy Honeymoon," COOTE.

Later in the afternoon, amidst the congratulations and good wishes of a very large circle of friends, the happy pair started to spend their honeymoon at Oaklands House, near Tunbridge Wells, lent to them for the occasion. The bride's travelling dress was a stone-coloured directorie gown, with white silk waistcoat relieved with pasâmentéré of several shades; hat to match with white carnations.
