ISLE OF WIGHT TIMES Thursday 2nd Dec 1886 page 5

The death of Mr. C. CORRY, who was for many years connected with the Post Office, occurred on Thursday afternoon. He has been in delicate health for some time, never having recovered from breaking a blood vessel. He will be greatly missed at the Wesleyan Sunday School, where he was secretary. The funeral took place on Tuesday at the Cemetery, and was largely attended by the Post Office officials, who placed a splendid wreath on the coffin.

OBITUARY

Many will learn with regret the death on Friday of Mr. Chas. CORRY, a young man who has for some years been engaged at the Ryde Post Office. Being in delicate health, he was again compelled to leave, and after a short relapse died on the 25th ult. The funeral took place on Tuesday, when the respect in which the deceased was held was shown by the number who attended. The coffin, which was borne to the grave by Ryde letter carriers, was covered with some beautiful wreaths sent by postal and telegraph staff. Amongst those who followed were Messrs. BRIGHT, JUDD, HIBBERD, EARL, and all the available staff of sub-postmasters of High-street, Seaview, Oakfield, Shanklin &c. the service at the grave was conducted by the Rev. J. EGLINTON, who spoke in the highest terms of the deceased, who was a very active worker in the Wesleyan Sunday School. Many Sunday School teachers also attended.
