DEATH OF MISS CAMPLING

Many in this town will learn with deep regret the death of Miss CAMPLING, which occurred on the 20th inst., at Montague House, Dover-street, the residence of her stepfather (Alderman Charles COLENUTT) . The deceased lady, by her amiability and kindly disposition, had made many friends, and her loss, especially to the small family circle to which she belonged, will be almost irreparable. A few months ago she first exhibited symptoms of illness, which developed into a painful internal disease, attended by much suffering, which was borne with Christian resignation and fortitude. The funeral took place on Tuesday, when 18 beautiful wreaths, one from General and Mrs. CARR TATE, were placed upon the coffin, which was of polished carved elm. The chief mourners were Ald. Chas. COLENUTT, Mr. R. COLENUTT, Mr. ELEY, Professor SIMONDS, &c.

The funeral service was performed by the Rev. J. SAUNDERS, B.A., the pastor of the George-street Congregational Church. Mr. Hiram JENKINS was the undertaker.
