DEATH OF MRS T.H.HALSTED

Another link with an old-established Ryde business has been severed by the death of Mrs Elizabeth HALSTED, who passed away on Tuesday at her residence, Hillsbrough, Melville-street, at the age of 69. Mrs HALSTED was the esteemed wife of Mr Thomas Henry HALSTED, who had been connected with the drapery trade in Ryde for over half a century, and took over the business in High-street from the late Mr George GODFREY in 1899. The deceased lady had been in failing health for two years. It is a sad coincidence that she was the last patient to be operated on by the late Dr PRESTON who died almost at the same hour. Her end came as a happy release from suffering. Widespread sympathy is felt with Mr HALSTED, his son and two daughters in their loss. The funeral takes place this (Saturday) morning.
