SINGER DIES

Well known locally as a singer and for her work for Methodism, Miss Nellie CARLEY, of 95 Arthur-street, Ryde, died at the Royal I.W. County Hospital, Ryde, on Sunday. She had been in failing health for some time. Until her illness, Miss CARLEY, a contralto, was one of the oldest performers of the Ryde Philharmonic Society. She was a keen supporter of the former United Methodist Church, Newport-street, Ryde, and latterly at Garfield-road Methodist Church where she was a chorister. A native of Ryde, she was the older daughter of the late Mr. W. H. CARLEY, a former Ryde Photographer. A funeral service will take place at Garfield-road Methodist Church today.
