

1861 CENSUS: RG9/657. folio 93. page 7.

Address: Suffolk House, George-street, Ryde, Newchurch, IW.

John J. FARDELL. Head. Mar. 50. Rector of Banham Norfolk. Lincoln.

John W. FARDELL. Son. Un. 22. Attorney Articled Cl. Sprotbrough, Yorkshire.

Mary E. FARDELL. Dau. Un. 21. Sprotbrough, Yorkshire.

Alice L. FARDELL. Dau. 10. Sprotbrough, Yorkshire.

Gerald T. FARDELL. Son. 8. Sprotbrough, Yorkshire.

Eleanor M. FARDELL. Dau. 7. Sprotbrough, Yorkshire.

Ann M. MADEY. Serv. Un. 24. House Servant. Kenningham, Norfolk.

Emma TOLLEY. Serv. Un. 24. House Servant. Bexley Heath, Kent.

Amelia M. IREMONGER. Serv. Un. 20. House Servant. Halifax, America.

William SMITH. Serv. Un. 15. Page. Pennington, Hants.

MARRIAGE: 31st Dec 1861 St. Thomas's, Ryde.

John Wilson FARDELL. Full/age. Bachelor. (father: John George FARDELL)

& Frances Anne HEARN. Full/age. Spinster. (father: John Henry HEARN).

1878 WHITE's DIRECTORY of Hampshire & Isle of Wight - page 476

FARDELL John Wilson, solicitor and clerk to Borough and County Magistrates, Cambrian House, Spencer-road, Ryde, IW.

HAMPSHIRE TELEGRAPH AND SUSSEX CHRONICLE

Saturday 23 May 1896, Issue 5984

FUNERAL OF MR JOHN WILSON FARDELL

The funeral of the late Mr John Wilson FARDELL, lately Clerk to the IW County Council, took place at the Ryde Cemetery on Saturday amid many tokens of respect. The body, which was conveyed on an open hearse, was covered with floral tributes, others being continued in a waggonette. The first part of the service took place in Holy Trinity Church. The body was met by the choir and the following clergy:- The Revs W M CAMERON, K M PITT, H E EWBank, W H E WELBY, and W G WHITTAM, the first named reading the sentences. The hymn, "Now the labourer's task is o'er", and the 39th psalm were sung. The Rev K M PITT read the lesson. The service at the church closed with the hymn, "On the resurrection morning", sung as a recessional, and "The Dead March" was played by the organist.

The mourners were Messrs J and G FARDELL (sons), F C FARDELL (brother), H PEACOCK (son-in-law), the Rev E BAYLY (brother-in-law), Col. F WOODHOUSE JAMES (cousin), Mr F HORNER, and Mr CANNING (London partner). Amongst those present at the church and graveside were the Mayor (Alderman GROVES), and a great number of public men representing Ryde and the Island generally. The wreaths were very numerous.

HAMPSHIRE TELEGRAPH AND SUSSEX CHRONICLE

Saturday 23 May 1896, Issue 5984

Round the Police Courts - Ryde – Monday – Before the Mayor (Alderman GROVES) and a full Bench

The Clerkship – The Mayor alluded in feeling terms to the great loss which the Bench had sustained by the lamented death of Mr John Wilson FARDELL, who for nearly 30 years, held the Clerkship. His Worship added that Mr FARDELL's oldest son, Mr John FARDELL, who had been acting as his deputy, had been unanimously appointed to succeed him. Mr Thomas DASHWOOD, the first Mayor of Ryde, Mr BARROW, another past Mayor, and Mr T WHITE, the senior solicitor present, also spoke in eulogy of the late Clerk. Mr John FARDELL made a feeling response to what had been said, and added that he would take for his example the conduct and principles in life shown and taught him by his late father.

Researched & typed by
Ann Barrett
Carol Strong