

1859 WHITE's DIRECTORY of Hampshire & Isle of Wight - page 656

DARBY Misses, 9 Monkton-street, Ryde, IW.

1861 CENSUS: RG9/658. folio 25. page 10.

Address: Monkton-street, Ryde, Newchurch, IW.

Jane DARBY. Head. Un. 67. Retired Lady Proprietor of House. Campden, Gloucs.

Caroline DARBY. Sister. Un. 59. Retired Lady Proprietor of House. Campden, Gloucs.

Mary A. J. HERBERT. Serv. Un. 14. Servant. Millbrook, Hants.

1871 CENSUS: RG10/1166. folio 29. page 3.

Address: Georgia Cottage, Nelson-street, Ryde, IW.

Jane DARBY. Head. Un. 77. Retired Ironmonger. Gloucs.

Caroline DARBY. Sister. Un. 69. Retired Ironmonger. Gloucs.

Jane HERBERT. Serv. Un. 22. Domestic Serv. Hants.

1881 CENSUS: RG11/1179. folio 52. page 1.

Address: Georgia Cottage, Nelson-street, Ryde, IW.

Caroline DARBY. Unm. 79. Campden, Gloucs.

Ellen H. PONTING. Niece, W. 46. Fareham, Hants.

Jane HERBERT. Unm. 33. Domestic Servant. Millbrook, Hants.

ISLE OF WIGHT COUNTY PRESS Saturday 19th Oct 1889

DEATH OF AN OLD INHABITANT

The death is announced of Miss DARBY, of Nelson-street, at the age of 88. Deceased was for many years the superintendent of the Dorcas Society in connection with the Congregational Church.

ISLE OF WIGHT OBSERVER Saturday 19th Oct 1889

OBITUARY

We have to record the death, at her residence, Nelson-street, of Miss DARBY, a lady who from long residence in the town was well-known, while her constant Christianity and active sympathy with all good works, won her general respect and esteem. There was something peculiarly winning in her address and conversation, and she influenced many a young person for life-long good. Her life was spared far beyond the allotted span; although 89 years of age, she was tolerably active to the last. Age did not dim her sympathies, though it naturally checked her power of giving effect to them, and a merciful Providence spared her the affliction of a long illness. She died, after having kept her bed only four days, on Sunday night.

NB: The Isle of Wight Times gives the same information, plus "her sister married the first missionary sent to Africa."