OBITUARY

The death took place somewhat suddenly on Saturday of Mr. Charles James BEAZLEY, of 35 High-street, Oakfield. Mr. BEAZLEY, who was a labourer employed by the Ryde Gas Company, left his work early on Saturday morning and had boarded a steamer for Portsmouth to see the football match at Fratton Park when he suddenly collapsed. He was taken home and a doctor summoned, but he relapsed into unconsciousness and died some hours later from cerebral hemorrhage. Deceased, who was 51 years of age, had served 12 years in the Royal Navy, and during the war joined the Coastal Patrol. His wife predeceased him in 1918, and there are three children left to mourn his loss. At the funeral at the Cemetery on Thursday deceased's fellow employees were represented by Messrs. SELF, SQUIBB, CORNEY, LANGDON, R. and W. BARTLETT, and S. RICHARDS, and TRUCKEL, an old employee. Wreaths were sent by the directors of the company and his work-mates.
