CHURCH WORKER'S DEATH

The death occurred on Sunday at her home of Miss Annie May PALMER, aged 65, of 7 West-place, who for many years worked devotedly for St. James's Church. Miss PALMER, who spent her life in the town, was the daughter of the late Mr. Edward PALMER, who was well-known through his blacksmith's business in the High-street. For 25 years she was employed as a housekeeper by the late Mr. Claude SMITH OF Lind-street, and had lived with her sister since the end of the war. Their mother died about 13 years ago. She was a regular worshipper at St. James's, and only two years ago gave up the work of treasurer after 14 years. She will also be greatly missed for her untiring efforts on behalf of the church garden parties and Christmas bazaars, and for 25 years was in charge of the church sewing party. Miss PALMER was taken ill last July while on holiday with her sister in Scotland and after a few weeks in hospital in Edinburgh was allowed to come home to be nursed by her sister. The funeral at St. James's Church on Wednesday was conducted by the Incumbent (the Rev. E. E. M. GREEN). The family mourners were Miss C. PALMER (sister), Mr. and Mrs. E. PALMER (brother and sister-in-law), Mr. and Mrs. E. W. PALMER, Mr. and Mrs. L. A. PALMER, and Mr. and Mrs. D. EAMES (nephews and nieces), Misses B. and E. PALMER (cousins), and Miss E. JOHNSON. The interment was at Ryde Cemetery, Messrs. J. WHEELER and Sons made the arrangements.
