

ISLE OF WIGHT OBSERVER Saturday 2nd Nov 1889, page 5.

SAD DEATH OF A PROMISING YOUNG OFFICER

We daresay many of our readers remember the late Major HARRIS, of St. John's House, Ryde, a deservedly popular and respected resident. Many of them knew his eldest son, Archie, who became a lieutenant in the Royal Engineers. Duty called him to India, and now we learn with deep regret the news of his death. It seems the poor young fellow, who was only 23, was shot near Quetta by a Pathan robber.

Researched by Ann Barrett and Lydia Jackson