

1901 CENSUS: RG13/1025. folio 7. page 5.
Address: Waverley Hotel, Esplanade, Ryde, IW.

Mary A. URRY. Head. Wid. 56. Hotel Keeper Pub. Gloucester.
Kate C. URRY. Dau. S. 23. Bookkeeper at home. Ryde, IW.

Duncan MCVINISH. Visitor. S. 48. Steward (Seas). Scotland.
(+ 7 other visitors and 1 servant)

---

ISLE OF WIGHT TIMES Thursday 13th Nov 1941.

Death Announcement -

MACVINISH .. On November 6th, at a Ryde nursing home, Duncan MACVINISH, aged 91.

---

ISLE OF WIGHT TIMES Thursday 13th Nov 1941, page 3.

MR. D. MACVINISH

Mr. Duncan MACVINISH, a resident of Ryde for the past half century, died on Thursday, at the great age of 91. Of Scottish decent, Mr. MACVINISH had an adventurous life, and in the pursuit of his duties as a yacht steward he visited many parts of the world. Before and during the last war he assisted with the Y.M.C.A. in Lind-street, being in charge for a time. He was a member of the Congregational Church. He made many friends both during his life at sea and his residence in Ryde.

The Rev. E. H. LEWIS, minister of the Elmfield Congregational Church, officiated at the funeral at the Cemetery Chapel on Saturday. Those present included among others Miss SCOTT, Mrs. RIDDETT, Mr. F. J. NORRIS, Mr. D. J. JONES, Mr. H. G. JOLLIFFE, Mr. LEWIS (an old shipmate), Mr. ASKOTT, and Mr. V. F. DYER.

---

Researched by Ann Barrett and Lydia Jackson