

A very handsome monument in the form of a cross has been erected in the Cemetery to the memory of the late MR JOHN HENRY BURT, who was for some years Superintendent of the Borough Police, and who died under somewhat sudden and painful circumstances about a year ago. The deceased was much liked by the constables, and the monument has been raised by subscription amongst them and other friends. The monument bears the following inscription: "This stone was erected by the members of the Ryde Borough Police Force, in memory of their late Superintendent, John Henry Burt, who died June 18th, 1880, aged 45 years."
