

The Late Mr. COLLEYPRIEST

THE KING'S SYMPATHY

Mrs. COLLEYPRIEST, the widow of Mr. J. COLLEYPRIEST, of Hurdholme, Binstead Road, whose death we reported last week, received on Friday the following telegram from the King: "His Majesty regrets very much to learn of the death of his old shipmate, John COLLEYPRIEST, whom he remembers so well. " Mr. COLLEYPRIEST served on the ship on which the present King was a midshipman, and their acquaintance was renewed during a visit of His Majesty to Portsmouth during the War.

Researched & typed by
Ann Barrett
Kate MacDonell