

DEATH OF MR. W. G. DENNIS. - We regret to record the death of a well-known townsman, Mr. W. G. DENNIS, who passed away very suddenly on Monday evening, at his residence, Kensington House. A year or two ago he had some kind of seizure which rendered him practically helpless. Otherwise he was in very good spirits, and was able to talk cheerfully with his old friends when he met them. Quite recently he was out in a bath chair, and recognised those he met. On Monday evening he seemed as usual, and was having his tea, when another seizure occurred, and he passed painlessly away in a very few minutes. Mr. DENNIS carried on business for many years in Pier Street, and was held in general respect and esteem. He was one of the oldest members of the Conservative Club.
