ISLE OF WIGHT COUNTY PRESS Saturday 7th August 1943

Death of Mr. W. T. HAYWARD.- The death occurred on Tuesday of Mr. William Thomas HAYWARD, of 74 High-street, in his 81st year. He had an interesting career in the Royal Navy and held the Egyptian war medal. Emigrating to America he served for a time in the Dock Police there and on returning to England 30 years ago came to Ryde as licensee of the Simeon Arms, Simeon-street. He had since been employed by the Corporation until ill-health prevented it. He was a man of strong character. The funeral took place yesterday (Friday).

The Simeon Arms. It was opened in 1869 by Gales of Horndean and remained a Gale's pub until the 1880's when it became a Free House. It was named after the Simeon family who owned land in Ryde. It is still a pub to this day (2014) and retains its original name of The Simeon Arms.
