

ISLE OF WIGHT OBSERVER Saturday 2nd March 1907

ACCIDENT TO MRS. HOWARD-BROOKE. - We regret to record a somewhat serious accident to Mrs. HOWARD-BROOKE, wife of Colonel E. HOWARD-BROOKE, the popular master of the Isle of Wight Hunt. It seems that on Thursday morning Mrs. HOWARD-BROOKE went out riding, attended by Mr. YOUNG, of Union Street, and when in the neighbourhood of Asheys, had the misfortune to fall from her horse. Happily she fell clear of her mount but nevertheless sustained a compound fracture of an arm. After being medically attended Mrs HOWARD-BROOKE was conveyed to her home at Ryde, where she passed a good night and was this (Friday) morning progressing as well as could be expected.

---

Researched & typed by
Ann Barrett
Margaret Truckel