

ISLE OF WIGHT OBSERVER

We are sure it will interest many of our readers to learn that a volume of poems by the late Henry LOCKWOOD, Esq., of Saxonbury Lodge, Ryde, has just been issued by his widow. They are published by Messrs KERBY and ENDEAN, London. All those who heard the masterly lecture on Egypt, delivered by the late lamented gentleman – full as it was of poetic illustration – will doubtless welcome this little volume. Mr LOCKWOOD was already known in the literary world by his elegant translations of Swedish poetry and by his “Sacred Lyrics”

Researched & typed by
Ann Barrett
Margaret Truckel