DEATH AT SEA.---The death took place at sea on Saturday of Mr. Douglas H. MORGAN, a member of an old Ryde family, who was living in retirement in his native town. Mr. MORGAN, who was 66 years of age, was on a cruise to the Baltic, when he died suddenly from heart failure and was buried at sea the following day.

For 25 years he held an appointment at Felstead College, Essex. Three years ago he came to reside in the borough and very shortly afterwards had the misfortune to lose his wife, a sister of Mr. A. E. LOWE, of Union-street, and of Mrs. TARRANT, of Queen's-road. Mr. MORGAN was a well known and active member of the Golf Club, the Bowling Club, and the Vectis Boating and Fishing Club, and was held in much esteem.
