Railwayman's Death.---The death took place at 74a High-street, on Saturday, of Mr. Henry PHYTHIAN, aged 62, and a native of Warrington, near Manchester. He came to the Island 26 years ago as a blacksmith in the employ of the Southern Railway. During the last war he was employed at Eastleigh and was later transferred to Ryde St. John's. In the first world war he was stationed in the Island with the Royal Engineers, and was then well known locally as a footballer. He leaves a widow and two sons.

The Rev. P. L. VAUGHAN officiated at the funeral at Ryde Cemetery on Tuesday. The mourners were Messrs. W. R. and J. H. PHYTHIAN (sons) and Mr. H. CULL (brother-in-law). British Railways were represented by Mr. P. PRINGLE (locomotive foreman, also representing Mr. G. H. R. GARDENER, Island Assistant) and the local branch of the National Union of Railwaymen by Mr. V. J. TURNER.

Floral tributes included those from fellow employees and the N.U.R.
