

PILKINGTON SNIPPETS OF NEWS

Isle of Wight Observer 4 November 1865

Fashionable List – Loudoun House, Capt. Pilkington, R.N., Mrs Pilkington and Family.

Isle of Wight Observer 26 January 1867

Private Theatrical Entertainment at Southlands, distinguished company present included the Misses Pilkington.

Isle of Wight Observer 3 February 1866

Annual Soiree of the Ryde Working Men's Club – This event took place on Monday last at the Victoria-rooms, which were filled to overflowing. Nearly 400 persons partook of tea. About 8 o'clock the Rev. W. H. Girdlestone, the president and founder of the institute, took the chair, the platform being filled by a large array of literary and musical talent, being Mrs. Leeke, Miss Somerset, Miss Pilkington, Miss H, Pilkington, Miss Drought, Miss Owen and Miss Moberley, who kindly accompanied these ladies on the piano in the musical treat with which they favoured the audience.

Isle of Wight Observer 7 April 1866

Holy Trinity – The annual meeting of the parishioners was held in the vestry-room on Easter Tuesday, for the purpose of the election of churchwardens and other business. To his request, he (the incumbent) would nominate Capt. Pilkington, R.N. who had very kindly consented to serve the office.

Isle of Wight Observer 5 September 1874

Marriage – On the 3rd inst., at the Parish Church of Beaulieu, S Hants, by the Rev. W. W. Perrin, curate of St. Mary's, Southampton, William Lewis Nicholl Clayton, Captain Isle of Wight Artillery Militia, eldest son of Samuel Wittewronge Clayton, esq., of Eastfield, Ryde, I.W., to Maria Martha, sixth daughter of the late Captain Pilkington, R.N., of Loudoun House, Ryde, and formerly of Chilgrove, Chichester.