

ISLE OF WIGHT OBSERVER Saturday 11th December 1869

A TOUGH TAR.- We are pleased to see that Pilot STEWARD has recovered from his late accident, and able to resume his duties. He has had many mishaps in his time, having broken his left arm in the West Indies, and his right arm in Ryde; and singular enough, his left leg was broken at Cork, and his right leg on board a vessel at Bremen. A few months ago he broke his right leg a second time, and from this latter accident our friend has just recovered.

Researched & typed by
Ann Barrett
Kate MacDonell