

ISLE OF WIGHT TIMES Thursday 17th July 1873

SUDDEN DEATH. – A case of rather sudden death occurred here on Thursday. For some time past the wife of Mr. Jeremiah JENNINGS, tailor, of Spencer road, had been suffering from some internal disease, and on the evening of Wednesday she was admitted into the Royal Isle of Wight Infirmary, when an operation was considered necessary, and early on Thursday morning she died. Much sympathy is felt with Mr. JENNINGS and his family in their trying and somewhat sudden bereavement. The deceased was 48 years of age.

Researched & typed by
Ann Barrett
Margaret Truckel