

HAMPSHIRE ADVERTISER 12th June 1872

SUDDEN DEATH. - On Tuesday afternoon a gentleman named Matthias GOODMAN, 47 years of age, who has been staying in Ryde for the past fortnight, came off the Pier with his mouth bleeding, and after going a few steps fell down. He was immediately picked up by the pier officials, placed in a Bath chair, and conveyed to Dr. TURNER's. That gentleman not being at home, they took the sufferer to Dr. BARROW, who ordered him to be immediately taken to bed. Accordingly he was taken to Mrs. BOYCE's eatinghouse, in Pier-street, where he had been staying. Before he could be placed in bed however, death took place.

Researched & typed by
Ann Barrett
Margaret Truckel