

ISLE OF WIGHT OBSERVER Saturday 9th February 1895

SUDDEN DEATH. - Mr. Thomas FORD, while engaged in sweeping away the snow in front of his house, at Haylands, on Friday, fell down and expired almost immediately. The Coroner was communicated with, and decided that no inquest was necessary, being satisfied that death was due to natural causes, the deceased, it is understood, having suffered from some form of heart disease. Deceased, who had been a soldier and policeman, leaves a widow and a large family.

Researched & typed by
Ann Barrett
Val Minns