

ISLE OF WIGHT OBSERVER Saturday 16th October 1858

DEATH OF MRS. WILDER – This estimable lady departed this life on Sunday last, after a protracted illness, at her residence in West-street. Among her many amiable and charitable works, stands conspicuous the erection of alms houses for the poor as a monument to the memory of her deceased husband. In other ways her good deeds will long be cherished by the poor, who have lost in her a true friend, and whose place it is to be feared will not soon be supplied.

Researched by
Ann Barrett